The Humane Society of South Carolina: Moving Forward

At the Humane Society of South Carolina, we are passionate about what we do. We are determined to continue our mission to end animal cruelty, neglect and overpopulation even as the challenges our state has found itself in continues to progress.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, a few adjustments were made to our operations in order to continue serving our community and to keep our doors open. We strive to provide the best contact-less services so our community can continue to receive low cost, high quality spay/neuter services. We have introduced a drive-thru system at our clinic to drop-off and pick up your pets to keep both our clients and ourselves safe during these uncertain times. Online payments and registration are available to ensure a speedy - but most importantly safe - experience.

The Humane Society employs a dedicated staff of hardworking professionals bent on achieving our mission to end animal cruelty and overpopulation, but hard work and dedication alone are not enough. The Humane Society needs continued support to bring awareness of the issues we face to the general public and to aid in our capacity to take action against animal overpopulation. Only through a cooperative effort can The Humane Society and the community, to which it serves, reach a solution to our region's animal welfare issues.

Greetings,

Here at the Humane Society, we need your support now more than ever. In this current unprecedented state of our community, it is unknown what is in store for businesses, organizations and the overall flourishing of our beloved state of South Carolina. As a nonprofit organization, we rely heavily on members of our community that are as passionate about our mission as we are to donate funds so we can continue providing our services to the Midlands.

Our new "normal" has come with its' challenges, but I believe with your support we will make it through to keep serving the animals we love. We understand that everyone is dealing with adjustments and new standards of living in our everyday lives, which is why staying united as a community is extremely important, even as we stand six feet apart. Please consider donating today.

Stay Safe & Well,

Dawn Wilkinson
